

Hello ,

July is here. That means we are just six months away from another Christmas. Is that a good thing? Are you excited or are you distressed? If you are excited, is it because you have managed to get key achievements done already or are you distressed because you feel nothing you planned at the beginning of this year has taken off? Whatever group you belong to, just hold the thought for now, we will be right back to this subject.

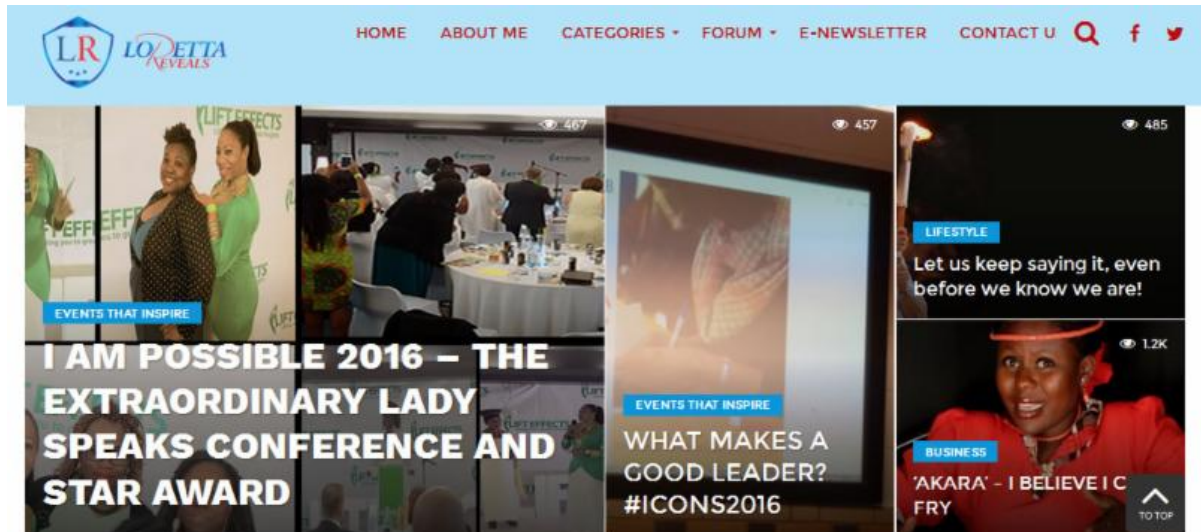

June for us started on a sober note at LR when we deferred featuring our LR planned guest, to enable us pay our own respect and tribute to the man who told us "not to count the days, but to make the days count". Every mentor needs a mentor. Muhammad Ali, was a mentor of mentors. So, being in the business of "borderless motivation", Team LR marked his exit by reflecting on the life and times of the 'greatest' with the article titled "Let us keep saying it, even before we know we are!"

Our events that inspire section have been abuzz! First it was as XN Foundation celebrated the 10th anniversary of ICONS (International Conference of Nigerian Students) in Leicester, United Kingdom. At De Montfort University, delegates converged from various parts of the world to mark this event, which we featured in the article "What makes a good leader? #ICONS2016". Team LR, in our usual way of supporting those who share our vision, had representatives on hand at the break out session led by Dr. Emmanuel Adukwu and Dr. Amara Anyogu of the Aspiring Professionals Hub (www.aspiringprofessionalshub.com). Dr. Emmanuel

Adukwu was one of our pioneer inspirational guest feature on LR space:

Amara made it clear that "for you to define someone as a good leader, it depends on the assessment criteria you are using". Secondly, she explained that a bad person could have good leadership abilities. You sure need to see this enlightening article for yourself if you have not yet done so.

Another inspiring event from the month of June was "I AM POSSIBLE 2016 - The Extraordinary Lady Speaks Conference and STAR Award".

This is one event Team LR was keen about for three main reasons. The first reason was that the objective of this annual event, which was not just only to celebrate women from across the globe who are making a difference in our world today, but also to have them share their stories of how they became POSSIBLE to encourage us all to do more for our community, resonates with our LR mission of "borderless motivation". The second reason was that one of LR's very first feature Ava 'Eagle' Brown(<http://avaeaglebrown.com>) was on hand to receive an award.

Thirdly, our very own CEO of the LR Team, was herself nominated for and received an award at this event.

One of the very many erudite speakers at the event left us these words of wisdom. Sherry Ann Dixon told us how she is passionate about any person who makes a difference because not many people seek to make a difference. In her words, "I can and I will. Who says you can't? Somebody has to do it, and I will".

In line with those words, reflect back to the thought we put on hold at the very beginning. There is no need to fret if you have yet to complete or even start projects you planned for the year, because who says you can't? The only one stopping you is you. Decide and believe you will get your projects done. Reduce your distractions - yes your distractions (you are also the one person that knows them). Next make a to-do list, in order of priority. Then get to work at the itemized projects/items, one after the other and before you know it, you will be done. You see, somebody has to do these things you have planned to do, and you will. Who says you cant? Definitely not us at the LR Team!

This July the 'borderless motivational space' is packed full! The guest features lined up are simply amazing and their stories mind blowing. How does one pick up the pieces after amnesia? Have you ever wondered how people in places they do not fit into survive? Like a female auto mechanic in a male auto mechanic dominated world? How old is your fitness instructor? Well, guess how old the one making waves on this side of the pond is: Thirty? Forty? Fifty? Sixty? If you want to know, then stick with us on LR; besides, who says you can't stick with us?
